This museum-quality photo-text traveling exhibit features photographs and interviews with families whose lives are affected by mental illnesses – schizophrenia, bipolar disorder, obsessive compulsive disorder, major depression, anxiety disorders, etc. Mental illnesses are medical brain disorders that impact 25% of American families.

The compelling accounts demonstrate strength, courage, integrity and accomplishment in the face of the adversity and stigma of mental illnesses. By bringing visibility to these individuals and their families, Nothing to Hide helps dispel harmful stereotypes, myths, and misconceptions about mental illnesses.
